Dear Parents and Carers,

I hope this letter finds you and your family well and that you had a great summer break.

As we embark on the 2024-2025 academic year, I am delighted to welcome you back to our school community. It is with great enthusiasm that we look forward to another year of exciting learning and settling pupils back into their classes, ready for the year ahead.

At Curnow School we are committed to providing a nurturing and inclusive environment where every child can thrive. Our dedicated staff have been working diligently to prepare for the new school year, ensuring that we continue to meet the unique needs of each student.

This year we have several exciting initiatives and programs planned to enhance our students' educational experiences. We will continue to focus on personalised learning, fostering independence and building strong partnerships with families. Your involvement and support are crucial to our success and we encourage you to stay engaged and connected with us throughout the year.

I would like to inform you that, currently, we are experiencing a lack of a Special School Nursing service in the interim period before a new service starts in November. We understand the importance of this service for our students and are actively working to ensure there is a clear interim plan in place. I will keep you updated with any new information as soon as it becomes available.

Additionally, we are working hard to ensure that pupils attend school regularly. Please note that any time off must be requested using the appropriate form and will only be granted in exceptional circumstances. Regular attendance is vital for your child's educational progress and overall development. Again, more information and the latest DfE guidance about attendance, which we must follow, will be coming out in a separate letter.

We will be sending information out through the school newsletter, via texts and our Facebook page, so keep an eye on these areas over the coming weeks. We believe that open communication and collaboration between home and school are key to our students' success and we look forward to working closely with you.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to me or any member of our staff. We are here to support you and your child every step of the way.

Thank you for your continued trust and partnership. Together, we can make this a fantastic year for our students.

Kind Regards,

Rob Armstrong
